CARNIVAL IS DRAWING CROWDS

HOW THE ELEPHANT ATE THE MERRY WIDOW WALTZ.

Parker Shows Entertaining the People With a Great Variety of Attractions.

The Parker Carnival continues to draw the multitude, the crowds which gathered at Tabernacle Square last evening to inspect the various attractions being considerably larger than at 4:45 yesterday afternoon. He walked big show.

The chief feature is the trained animal circus, owned and controlled by Al. G. Barnes, the veteran animal master, and one of the largest and most comprehensive collections of trained wild and domestic animals known to the profession of entertainment, including lions, tigers, leopards, hyenas, pumas, jaguars, bears, elephants, camels, dogs, ponies, goats, monkeys, etc. The show is a boxing kangaroo, and the only lion in the world that has been taught to ride on the back of a galloping horse. One feature as noticeable as it was commendable is every unit in the collection of animals has been taught to appear in some one of the three arenas with which the animal circus is equipped, and not one is carried for exhibition purposes only.

The feature of the performance is the riding lion, Nero, presented to Mrs. Millie Barnes, a dashing looking, well groomed woman of the brunette type, who bore herself with that grace and poise so characteristic of the professional performer. The work of Martha Florine and her group of Persian leopards was nothing if not thrilling, and Edwin Kelly did almost unbelievable things with a number of monster Nubian lions, actually feeding them chunks of raw meat from her own lips, and riding them around the arena much as a boy would ride a pony. One of the stunts quite as novel as it was remarkable was that of "Big Dick," the educated sea lion, an apparently timid creature whose proficiency as a juggler contradicted the popular belief that animals of his species are wholly stupid.

Then there is a most clever and likeable baby elephant, that does not seem to care for the bewitching music of Lehman's famous operetta, "The Merry Widow." Ruth, the baby elephant, is a good-natured little pachyderm, but she reached a point in her rehearsals in the arena yesterday where she considered herself imposed upon, and showed plainly that she thought patience had ceased to be a virtue. She is released every day by her trainer to the strains of the "Merry Widow" waltz, as the undulating quality of that particular waltz is admirably suited to the exercise of Ruth's terpsichorean accomplishments, and yesterday the trainer noticed that Ruth was thirsty and fatigued, but insisted that she finish her rehearsals, as she was booked to include several new tricks in her act last night.

While the baby elephant was reluctantly going through her stunts a gust of wind came along and blew the music of the famous waltz from the ears on the band stand in the animal show down into the arena where she was striving with the new cues. The sheets of music had no more than settled on the ground than Ruth, with characteristic feminine intuition, seized upon the objects of the confusion and with true elephantine neatness and dispatch conveyed them one by one with her trunk to her mouth and proceeded to chew them up with much gusto.

The leader of the band made a frantic effort to recover his precious waltz, but Ruth was not to be trifled. Even the lumps of sugar offered to tempt her to spit out the quavers and demi-semiquavers of Lehman's masterpiece were of no avail, and in a few moments there was no "Merry Widow" waltz, and Ruth's rehearsals were over for the day. Al. G. Barnes spoke softly to the band leader after the manner of troopers when he saw the elephant's rehearsals had been discontinued, and asked in gentle tones why such was the case. The discomfited band leader meekly replied, "Because Ruth ate up the waltz."

GAS MAINS ARE BEING EXTENDED BY U. L. & RY. CO.

Work on the extensions of the gas system is progressing in various parts of the city and numerous households are subscribing for private connections with the mains. Manager Danville Decker states that more than 3,200 feet of street main has already been laid and that a small portion of the total amount contemplated.

The company is not only extending its mains into new territory, but side mains are being run to any point desired by property owners, provided a sufficient number of subscribers are secured to justify the investment on the part of the company.

The present terminus of the Twenty-fifth street main is near the intersection of Madison avenue and the same will be extended at least as far as Jackson and probably farther, a number of subscribers in that section of the city having become enthused over the idea of cooking with gas.

The same improvements will be carried out on Washington avenue where the terminus at Twenty-sixth street will be extended at once to Twenty-ninth or Thirtieth street, with branches on the intermediate streets to be constructed as far as the business will justify.

In the business section, the Twenty-fifth street mains have now been relaid on one side. Those on Washington avenue, being in better condition, new pipe will be placed only where most needed, the present pipe being repaired and tested by means of "prospector holes" at each joint, thus avoiding the tearing up of the pavement of the principal thoroughfare. The mains will be thoroughly tested and the joints re-calked to prevent the loss of gas which the company has suffered for some time.

Three cars of 4-inch and 6-inch pipe for street mains are due to arrive at any time so that the work will proceed with no delays on account of lack of material.

Manager Decker stated that the work of Miss Van Cott, cooking demonstrator at Weber academy, is doing much toward attracting housekeepers' attention to the beauties of cooking with gas. It is now contemplated to install gas for cooking purposes in the domestic science department of the High school.

TEAMSTER CHARGED WITH BEATING A HORSE

Jesse Sallor, a teamster, was arraigned before the police judge this morning on the charge of beating a horse, the complaint being sworn to by Officer Hadlock and Lindsey Bell. Sallor entered a plea of not guilty and the witnesses were called.

Mr. Bell stated that he discovered Sallor attempting to make his team pull a load which was evidently too much for their strength, whereupon the defendant struck one of the animals with a whip, and then procuring a piece of hard lumber, he beat the animal until commanded to stop.

Officer Hadlock stated that he had gone down to the place indicated by Mr. Bell and had there found the defendant with his team. One of the horses bore a huge welt across its hind quarters and Charles Chase, who is stationed in the vicinity, told him that he also had witnessed the occurrence. The officer stated that the implement used in beating the horse was evidently a heavy stake from the rear of the wagon.

The court questioned the witness closely and then ordered the case continued until Saturday morning. Mr. Chase is to be subpoenaed as a witness.

THEATRICAL

"THREE WEEKS," AT UTAHNA.

If men could lay bare the innermost secrets in the thoughts, hearts and souls of their mothers, sisters, sweethearts and wives the shock would be almost more than they could bear and would be an astounding revelation. The courts and newspapers are daily recording the inevitable results of this ignorance on the part of man and for that reason alone, if none other, all men should see Elinor Glyn's dramatization of her own novel "Three Weeks" and draw from it the potent lesson it so subtly conveys. The mute appeal from woman contained in its lines and situations must strike a sympathetic chord among the intelligent male spectators and arouse them to a realization of their faults and suggest the remedy. When a drama has an interesting story with a purpose, and permits of powerful acting and handsome pictorial setting, it is more than an ordinary entertainment—it is a great play. A benefactor to society at large. Such a play is "Three Weeks." It will be seen in this city on Monday, June 14, at the Utahna Theater. The seats will be on sale on and after Friday morning at Culley's Drug Store.

NOTICE OF ESTRAYS.

State of Utah, County of Weber, Ogden City, ss:—
I have in my possession the following described estray animals, which if not claimed and taken away, will be sold to the highest cash bidder, at 1848 Washington Ave., in Ogden City, Utah, on Monday, the 21st day of June, 1909, at the hour of 12:30.

One flea bitten dark gray mare, wire cut on left shoulder and breast, 13 on left shoulder, 12 on left thigh. About 9 years old. One dark sorrel horse, shoes on, branded inverted cross with two bars on left side of neck. Sore back. About 10 years old.

Said estrays were taken up by me in said City on the 5th day of June, 1909. FRANK A. NABBITT.

Opposed to School Fraternities. Berkeley, Cal., has a superintendent of schools who has no use for "kid frats." He declares that the fraternities destroy unity and harmony, promote cliques and interfere with studies.

GIRLS WILL PLAY ON SUNDAY

BLOOMER BASEBALL GIRLS TO MEET THE GODDARD TEAM.

Said to be the Best Girls' Team Ever Seen in the West. Contest Will Be Exciting.

The baseball fans of Ogden will be afforded an opportunity of seeing the Bloomer Girls in action on the fair grounds diamond. They are scheduled for a contest with the Goddard team for Sunday afternoon.

It is said that the girls have a better aggregation of ball players in their lineup than has visited Ogden and good baseball of the snappy order is looked for. They have been extremely successful during the present season taking practically the same team with which they played from Vancouver to San Diego Cal., into camp.

Clara Orson, captain of the team, is considered to be one of the best female ball tossers in the country.

PRESIDENT HEYWOOD OF WEBER CLUB RETURNS

President A. R. Heywood, of the Weber club, returned today from his eastern sojourn in which he visited Chicago, New York, Boston and other points on matters of business.

Mr. Heywood stated that he found business conditions in the east in fairly good shape, but that there seems to be room for considerable improvement in all lines of industry.

Moneyed men of New York and Boston, while at present somewhat conservative regarding western investments and ventures, still manifested a lively interest in what is transpiring west of the Rocky mountains and are inclined to ask many questions regarding the general condition of affairs in this region.

Mr. Heywood interviewed the general traffic manager of the Harriman system regarding rates to the big Four-State fair. The official was willing to grant a 2-cent rate "one way," or "one fare and a third" for the round trip. The railway officials were courteous and friendly to the Ogden visitor with marked attention.

Mr. Heywood stated that the matter of obtaining rates equal to those quoted Salt Lake would be heard by the interstate commerce commission when that body again convenes and that a better proposition will probably be obtained than already has been granted.

Mr. Heywood, to whose efforts much of the credit for defeating the capitol tax proposition is due, was pleased with the results of the recent election and expressed himself as confident that much good would result from the activity exhibited by the people of Ogden and other portions of the state in downing the tax.

YOUNG MEN TO OPEN ARCHITECT'S OFFICE

Arthur Shreeve and Leo Madsen, two local young men, who were formerly engaged in architectural work here and in Salt Lake City, have returned from Chicago after completing their work at the Chicago School of Architecture. These young men have decided to open an architect's office in Ogden in the near future, with some new and up-to-date ideas in the line of modern home building.

Their experience in the east has qualified them to handle all classes of work, and they feel confident of being able to give satisfaction. They have permanently located offices in the First National bank building.

POPULARIZING CHURCH HISTORY

London, June 10.—The English church pageant, which will consist of the rendering in outdoor setting of a series of spectacular representations of episodes of church history, were opened on the grounds of Fulham palace this afternoon.

The pageant, which is under the patronage of the archbishop of Canterbury and the archbishop of York, was organized with the idea of popularizing the history of the church, affording instruction to the masses, and incidentally to bring financial assistance to various state charities. The presentations will be given twice a day, at 3 and 8 p. m., for six days. The history of the church from the earliest time to the present will be depicted by an array of four thousand amateur actors and actresses.

The first performance, which was marred by rain, opened with a prelude showing the founders of the church. This was followed by twenty scenes portraying outstanding events in the life of the church, such as the publication of the edict of Constantine in 313, the arrival of Augustine in Great Britain in 597, the anointing of William I in 1066, the granting of the Great Charter in 1215, the trial of Wycliffe in 1377, the consecration of Parker in 1559 and the acquittal of the seven bishops in 1688. The performance closes with a tableau representing the spread of the church's missions throughout the world. The 4,000 participants have been drilled for six months.

The followers of John Kenist, president of the anti-ritualistic league, put in an appearance at St. Etheldred's church, where the inaugural service was held by the Right Rev. Arthur Ingham, bishop of London. They protested against the bishop participating in a parish pageantry and denounced him as a traitor. They were, however, quickly dispersed by the police.

The Irwins were arrested recently in connection with an attempted black hand holdup wherein Mrs. Irwin was arrested in the act of taking a bogus money package from a spot appointed in a threatening letter.

WESTON NOW NEARING OGDEN

GREAT WALKER REACHED ROCK SPRINGS AT 11:30.

He Eats a Small Meal in Beginning of Long Day's Walk—Remains in Good Health.

A telegram received at local railroad headquarters this morning from Bitter Creek says:

"Edward Payson Weston left here at 4:45 this afternoon. He walked from Wamsutter in eight hours and forty minutes, sustained by a quarter pound of chocolate, one orange, a teaspoonful of beef juice and a pint of cold coffee. He announced his intention of making Point of Rocks by 10:30 last night and was feeling fine and in splendid physical condition."

A telegram from Thayer Junction this morning states that Weston passed that place at 6:30 a. m., after a good night's rest and was in excellent spirits. Edward Payson Weston arrived at Rock Springs at 11:30 today. He was met by Mayor Park who took him to a hotel for his dinner. His shoes are out of order and he has wired his manager at Green River to bring him a new pair this afternoon, when he will again resume his walk. He expects to go as far as Peru tonight. A large crowd followed him through Rock Springs.

Weston should reach Ogden by Tuesday next.

PASSENGERS ARE SAFELY LANDED

New York, June 10.—Without a mishap the 526 passengers of the Spanish liner Antonio Lopez, which went ashore in the fog last night off Fire Island, on one of the most dreaded stretches of the North Atlantic coast, reached Rock Springs tonight. While the ship lay off the coast, the crew was in immediate danger, the wreckers were lying alongside prepared to take off the crew in case a change in the wind should threaten their safety.

The last persons to be taken off were about thirty Americans returning from a tour of Spain. Among them were Judge Powell of the supreme court of Manila and a number of school teachers, nurses and clerks stationed at Manila in the government employ, who had stopped in Spain on their journey homeward. Knowing that there was no immediate danger they did much to quiet the excited immigrants.

New York, June 10.—The Spanish steamer Antonio Lopez, with 526 passengers and a crew of 135 men, grounded on Fire Island last night, and lay on the beach all night, pounded by heavy seas. Rockets sent up for assistance warned the summer life-saving crew at Point O'Woods life saving station, but they could do nothing until daylight.

Early today wrecking tugs reached the stranded steamer. A light, manned by a volunteer crew of fishermen, were launched through the surf, and after being thrown back on shore several times by the tremendous waves, succeeded in reaching the stranded steamer. The work of transferring the women and children passengers to the wrecking tugs was then begun. The sea was too high to permit of landing them on shore, and attempts to shoot a lifeline from shore to set up the breeches-buoy were unsuccessful.

Later in the day, the sea subsided somewhat, and several surf-boats assisted in removing the passengers to the wrecking tugs. Most of the passengers were from Italian and Spanish ports, including Naples, Genoa and Cadiz, and they were bound for Vera Cruz, to which port the steamer intended to proceed after touching at New York. The steamer lies 1,000 feet from shore and appears to be undamaged.
